WORK IN

2017

The only New York Area competition that recognizes excellence among labor journalists, photographers, graphic artists, designers and videographers ■ Judges are experts from the labor press, mainstream press and academia. ■ The Metro New York Labor Communications Council is dedicated to recognizing, celebrating, and encouraging union publications and works in other labor media. Winning a Communications Award calls attention to your staff's talents and achievements in delivering media's message. ■ We encourage you to submit work from traditional media to new media and everything in between as we aim to broaden the scope of labor communications for the benefit of all in the labor movement. From the local newsletter to digital communications, there is a category for your publication. Individuals and their work are recognized during this year's awards ceremony at Metro's annual convention taking place on May 11. First place winners will also be honored in our annual journal. ■ METRO NEW YORK LABOR COMMUNICATIONS COUNCIL IS AFFILIATED WITH THE INTERNATIONAL LABOR COMMUNICATIONS ASSOCIATION, AFL-CIO

This award is given in memory of former president of Metro Marty Fishgold, for his lifelong dedication to labor journalism.

Mary Heaton Vorse (1874-1966)

n innate rebel, Mary Heaton Vorse was a leading labor iournalist whose eloquent prose informed and agitated millions of American readers. Again and again, she sensed where action would begin and covered all the major labor events in the first half of this century. She also wrote as a woman, mother, 1920s Greenwich Village intellectual and a peace and women's suffrage activist. Free of political dogma, and an unconventional thinker, Vorse didn't "fit" into the shifting political groupings of her day. Today, decades later, Vorse's articles, essays and fiction are being rediscovered.
